

BRUNCH MENU

A curious cluster of pastel houses on stilts, stands proudly together on a sand bank, approximately one mile off the coast of the Cape Florida lighthouse. In the 1960's, this renegade city of whimsical buildings was comprised of social clubs, and dedicated solely to sunshine, salt water and fun. Complimentary drinks flowed for bikini-clad women, others chose to spend their time sunbaking on the nude deck, gambling illegally or using one of the available staterooms for various vice activities.

Fun loving Floridians were lured to travel over the crystal turquoise water of the Atlantic Ocean, seeking this unique destination to play, frolic and be free spirited. This mysterious local treasure of Miami is known as Stiltsville.
